2. Suspected abuse or neglect
3. Legal obligations or court orders
4. Client consent for disclosure

Professionals must clearly communicate these limits to clients and document disclosures appropriately to uphold ethical standards.

Managing Dual Relationships and Boundary Issues

Dual relationships occur when a professional has multiple roles with a client, risking conflicts of interest or exploitation. Strategies to address this include:

1. Assessing the potential for harm before engaging in dual relationships
2. Establishing clear boundaries from the outset

3. Being transparent about online interactions

Helping professionals are ethically obligated to care for their own mental and physical health. Burnout can impair judgment and reduce the quality of care. Strategies include:

1. Engaging in regular supervision and peer consultation
2. Practicing self-reflection and mindfulness
